

List B of 15 English Idioms

- 1) You have your head in the clouds. – You are not concentrating.
- 2) Cut the mustard – Do a good job
- 3) In a fog – in a great confusion
- 4) When pigs fly – something that will never happen or is impossible
- 5) A penny for your thoughts. – Tell me what you're thinking.
- 6) It costs an arm and a leg. – It's very expensive.
- 7) You can't judge a book by its cover.– This person or thing may look bad, but it's good inside.
- 8) Well begun is half done. – Getting a good start is important.
- 9) They are like two peas in a pod. – They're always together.
- 10) Leave no stone unturned. – Look everywhere.
- 11) It is always darkest before the dawn. – Things are going to get better.
- 12) Get a second wind – Have more energy after having been tired
- 13) It's like riding a bicycle. – It's something you never forget how to do.
- 14) You hit the nail on the head. – You get something exactly right.
- 15) As right as rain. – Perfect.

My notes:

List B of 15 English Idioms

Print and cut; mix and match pairs; mix and choose to use in dialogues; pin on the notice board, or on the wall / fridge / next to the mirror...

You have your head in the clouds.	You are not concentrating.	Cut the mustard
In a fog	in a great confusion	Do a good job
When pigs fly	Something that will never happen or is impossible	A penny for your thoughts.
Tell me what you're thinking.	It costs an arm and a leg.	It's very expensive.
You can't judge a book by its cover.	This person or thing may look bad, but it's good inside.	Well begun is half done.
Getting a good start is important.	They are like two peas in a pod.	They're always together.
Leave no stone unturned.	Look everywhere.	It is always darkest before the dawn.
Things are going to get better.	Get a second wind	Have more energy after having been tired
It's like riding a bicycle.	It's something you never forget how to do.	You hit the nail on the head.
You get something exactly right.	As right as rain.	Perfect.

